ADVANCED PUBLIC PROCUREMENT LAW AND POLICY TRAINING

Overview:

The Advanced Public Procurement Law and Policy training program is designed to provide public procurement professionals with an in-depth understanding of the legal and policy frameworks that govern public procurement. The program will cover a range of topics, including procurement laws and regulations, international trade agreements, public-private partnerships, and sustainable procurement. The program will also provide participants with an understanding of the practical implications of public procurement policies and regulations.

Objectives:

- Develop an advanced understanding of the legal and policy frameworks that govern public procurement
- Understand the practical implications of public procurement policies and regulations
- Learn about procurement strategies and public-private partnerships
- Understand sustainable procurement practices

The training program will include lectures, case studies, group discussions, and practical exercises. Participants will have the opportunity to apply the concepts learned in the training program to real-world public procurement scenarios. By the end of the training program, participants will have an advanced understanding of the legal and policy frameworks that govern public procurement, as well as an understanding of the practical implications of public procurement policies and regulations. They will also have the skills and knowledge necessary to develop procurement strategies, navigate public-private partnerships, and implement sustainable procurement practices.
